age of attaining majority only and if not protected trust else any person domiciled by by India shall only achieve majority after the completion of 18 years of age.

In the case where the question or a question is appointed by any Court of Justice for a minor in case of a person or his property or for both before the age of 18 years. Then in such the age of majority should be after attaining the age of 21 years instead of attaining 18 years of age.

Critical Analysis :-

In the case of Mohori Bidge v/s Dharmodas where the Privy Council strictly defined that any sort of contract or agreement with a minor (8) or with any infant shall be null and void. All contract with the minors will be void ab initio. Majority Act, 1875 outlined the definition of a minor according to such act any person who is below the age of 18 years or has not completed the age of 18 years shall not be competent to create or enter into any sort of contract or agreement.
